appearance.

November 2022

Dear Friend,

We refer to this season as “Fall” or “Autumn” but these months could also be called “Transformation.” What could be more thorough or dramatic than leaves turning from green, to bright yellow, then red before falling to the ground? Students know that advancing from one grade level to the next signifies important changes, and many revel in the excitement of a new school year. For all of us, fewer hours of daylight can cause a similar thrill - and may even change the rhythm of our bodies at a molecular level!

Red Canoe Foundation has chosen “Transformation” as the theme for this year’s Annual Appeal. We understand that spending quality time in the wilderness provides opportunity for both personal and group transformation. Camp Wabun’s canoe trips practically guarantee those opportunities, and Red Canoe Foundation’s mission is to help make those experiences accessible to all young people, including those who could not otherwise afford them.

Thanks to generous donors, we supported 16 Wabun campers for a total of $85,570 last summer. This was an important revenue stream for the camp. Next year we anticipate camper enrollment will increase along with the need for financial support. If you are able, we hope you will consider making a donation to the annual campaign this year.

There are several ways to contribute. To make an online donation today, click on the DONATE button at redcanoefoundation.org or scan the QR code below. You can also mail a check in the envelope provided. To speak with us about company matching, investment disbursements, estate planning, and other forms of giving, please call Gail Coleman directly at 608-469-4752.

Everybody deserves an opportunity for transformation. Thank you for your support of our shared mission.

Sincerely,
